

Electronically Displayed Student Work Release Form

Wheelock Elementary School

To: Parents of Wheelock Elementary School Students
From: Mr. Fryer, 4th Grade Teacher

Wheelock Elementary School is on the forefront of technology. We have set up a "Home Page" on the internet, which offers exciting new learning opportunities for our students.

The Internet is a vast and rapidly growing world network of over two million computers, from simple personal computers to the most advanced supercomputers. No individual or group runs the Internet; it is a collective effort of thousands of information-providers: schools, governments, non-profit groups, commercial organizations, and private individuals. Internet users now number in the tens of millions.

Wheelock is thus able not only to use the Internet's rich resources, but also to start publishing information on the Internet. As part of the many technological applications employed, Wheelock is able to publish a variety of teacher and student projects on a portion of the Internet known as the world-wide web. The kinds of work we publish include but are not limited to:

creative writing, artwork, slide presentations, hypermedia and multimedia projects, and audio/video productions. In addition, reports and news items may include photographs of students.

Students' first names only will be used. (In the event that two students have the same first name, the last initial will be included.) Students will retain copyright to their work.

We will not publish home addresses, phone numbers, the child's e-mail address, or materials protected by federal regulation.

Should your child's work be chosen for publication, your signature on this form acknowledges your permission for such work to be published on the Wheelock world-wide web home page. You can link to our homepage from this internet address:
